Courts Served

District Court (also known as Metroplolitan Court or Sessions Court, and has jurisdiction over Magistrate Court).

Most cases are heard within these courts.

Each State in India is divided into Districts and the courts sit within each District.

High Court - has original jurisdiction over all civil and crimnal cases in each state. The high courts tend to hear appeals from the districts.

TAT is 2-5 days for major metropolitan cities and the surrounding vicinity. Rural areas can take as long as 10 days.
